- Saturday, January 8, 2005 - Stephen DiJoseph - piano, poetry and Urban Celtic; read about these musical projects at <http://www.stephendijoseph.com>
- Saturday, March 12, 2005 – David Falcone – a fingerstyle acoustic guitarist/vocalist whose influences include the styles and techniques of artists such as Leo Kottke, John Renbourn and Pierre Bensusan. His original compositions reflect a unique synthesis of Celtic, traditional, and classical sounds and forms. His vocal works are often backed with the intricate details blended from these sources of inspiration. His performance repertoire also includes instrumentals written by Kottke, Renbourn, and Martin Simpson and songs by Bob Dylan, John Prine, and others. <http://www.lasalle.edu/~falcone/>
- $4 admission donation requested to pay the musicians and support charities. Charities supported have included local food and housing projects and international programs aimed at providing self-sufficiency to impoverished rural areas.
